The Abline, while Issued with all the regularity, has none of the temporary or timely interest characteristics fordinary periodicals. It is an elegant miscellary of pure, light and graceful literature; and a collection of pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. Although each succeeding number affords a fresh pleasure to its friends, the real value and beauty of The Abline will be most approached after it has been bound up at the close of the year. While other publications may claim superior cheapness, as compared with rivals of a similar class, The Abline is a unique and original conception—alone and unapproached—absolutely without competition in price or character. The possessor of a complete volume cannot duplicate the quantity of the paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there are the chromos, besides!

PREMIUM FOR 1874.

Every subscriber to The Aldins for the year 1874 will receive a pair of chromos. The original pictures were painted in oil for the publishers of The Aldins, by Thomas Moran, whose great Colorado picture was purchased by Congress for ten thousand dollars. The subjects were chosen to represent "The East" and "The West." One is a view in the White Mountains, New Hampschire; the oth rightes the Chiffs of Green River, Wyoming Territory. The difference in the nature of the scenes themselves is a pleasing contrast, and affords a good display of the artist's scope and coloring. The chromos are each wo ked from thirty distinct plates, and are in size (12 x 16 and appearance exact facsimiles of the originals. The presentation of a worthy exhapple of America's greatest landscape painter to the subscribers of The Alding was a bold but peculiarly happy idea, and its successful realization is attested by the following testimonial, over the signature of Mr. Moran himself:

Messrs. James Sutton & Co.

Gentlemen.—I am delighted with the proofs in gentlemen. They are wonderfully successful representations by mechanical process of the original paintings:

Very respectfully,

(Signed.). Thos. MORAN.

(Signed,)
These chromos are in every sense American. They are by an original American process, with material of American annufacture, from designs of American scenery by an American painter, and presented to subscribers to the first successful American Art Journal. If no better because of all this, they will certainly possess an interest no breign production can inspire, and notitier are they any the worse if by reason of peculiar facilities of production they cost the publishers only a trifle, while equal in every respect to other chromos that are sold singly for double the subscription price of The Adme. Persons of taste will prize these pictures for theuselves—not for the price they did or did not cost, and will appreciate the enterprise that renders their distribution possible.

Sible.

If any subscriber should indicate a preference for a figure subject, the publishers will send "Thoughts of Home" a new and beautiful chromo 14 x 20 inches, representing a little Italian extle whose speaking eyes betray the longings of alls heart.

The Athins will, hereafter, he obtainable only by subscription. There will be no reduced or club rate; cash for subscriptions must be sent to the publishers direct, or handed to the local canvasser, without responsibility to the publishers, except in cases where the certificate is given, bearing the fac-simile signature of James Sutton & Co.

The illustrations of The Aldiae have won world-wide reputation, and in the art cent of Europe it is an admitted fact that its w plate, while they afford a better rendering of the artists original.

To fully realize the wonderful work which The Aldine is doing for the cause of art culture in America, it is only necessary to consider the cost to the people of any other decent represen-tations of the productions of great painters.

In addition to designs by the members of the National Academy, and other noted American artists, The Aldina will reproduce examples of the best foreign masters, selected with a view to the highest artistic success and greatest ren-eral interest. Thus the subscriber to The Aldina-will, at a trilling cost, enjoy in his own home the pleasures and refining influences of true art.
